MINISTRY & LIFE PERSPECTIVES

From Safari....

This past week saw many don costumes masquerading as princesses, superheroes, or celebrities, and for a brief moment, acting as someone else. We have celebrated the men and women who have faithfully placed God first in their lives and are held up by the Church as worthy role models. We have also remembered our loved ones who have died, recall how they have put flesh onto God's love and with our prayers trust that they have come to the fullness of eternal life. This weekend orange will dot the woods as deer hunters perhaps search and find the trophy deer. For some, it is more the comradery and the reflective silence in the deer stand contemplating the wonders of God.

In a strange way this leads me to thoughts of integrity, of being honest and being consistent with Gospel values. Jesus practiced what he preached. He could always be trusted; his words and actions were perfectly integrated. But he did not completely dismiss the authority of the Pharisees and the scribes. Jesus instructed his disciples to "do and observe whatever they tell you, but do not follow their example." Why? Because they said one thing and did another. At least in Matthew, Jesus frequently called the scribes and the Pharisees hypocrites.

Though the prophet Malachi (this weekend's first reading) did use the word hypocrite, certainly described the priests of his day of saying one thing and doing another.

The scribes, Pharisees and priests fell short as leaders of their people, but the sacred authors hold them forth for us today — not to assign blame, but so that we might cultivate for ourselves the virtues they lacked.

In order to lead and instruct others well, a person must be essentially honest; there should be no gap between word and deed. What one says or does in private should not differ from their actions in public.

It can be easy to catch others as being a hypocrite. Today's readings invite us to remember that integrity and honesty begin with each of us. Are there times you fail to act with integrity?

Patricia Sánchez writes, "This is the question put before the praying assembly today. As each of us considers this question for ourselves, Paul reminds us that we are equipped by God and by grace for the challenge of being honest. In his correspondence with the believers in Thessalonica (second reading), Paul affirms that those who believe carry within them the very word of God. Moreover, Paul assures us, as he did our ancient brothers and sisters, that the word of God is "at work" in us. With God's word working in us, we have a living, portable norm by which to measure our thoughts, words and actions. God's word, as mediated through the law and the prophets and as spoken and lived by Jesus, keeps us whole and holy, honest, just and true. (Celebration, October 2011, pp 41-2)

Over the last few weeks, God's word has spoken to us about taxes; caring for immigrants, widows and orphans; banquets; vineyards; and about the love of God and neighbor. Through these lessons, we discover that the word of God does not coerce us; rather, God waits for an invite into our hearts. Only in allowing God's word to shape us can we come to integrity. Then, like Jesus, we will say what we mean and mean what we say: We will be true to the word at work within us.

Have a grace filled week! Fr. Ron

STEWARDSHIP AND EVANGELIZATION
LIVING A LIFE OF DISCIPLESHIP

"Whoever exalts himself will be humbled; but whoever humbles himself will be exalted." - Matthew 23:12

The world celebrates people in the spotlight and those who have the most of everything. We think celebrity, money and possessions are the key to happiness. Yet, our world is filled with more loneliness, anxiety and depression than ever. The key to a happy life is relationships. Relationship with God and each other. Trust is the foundation of any good relationship and humility is the seed of trust.

Thank you to those who have already supported diocesan ministries through the Appeal. As of October 23, the diocese has raised $1,316,387 in gifts and pledges toward the goal of $1,400,000, with gifts from 7,180 households. Every dollar raised goes directly to ministries that support our Catholic faith and is not used for any other purpose. Will you help these ministries meet their funding needs? Visit www.stcdio.org/annualappeal.

Eternal Rest grant unto them Oh Lord and let perpetual light shine upon them.

RELICS AT SACRED HEART

Ever curious what relics of the saints we have here at Sacred Heart? We will again have relics of St. John Bosco, St. Ignatius Loyola, and many others displayed for veneration during the month of November. These are first-class relics (a part of the physical body of a saint, approved by the Vatican as authentic). There are also two other classes of relics: second-class relics are items owned or used by the saint, and third-class relics are objects that have been touched to a first-class relic. The veneration of relics is grounded in Catholic faith that our bodies are temples of the Holy Spirit, who lives and works in us all, and especially in the saints' lives in ways that inspire hope and imitation of their faith and charity. When venerating a relic, you can spend a few moments in quiet prayer and devotion. You can also touch the relic and ask for intercession of the saints for any intentions you might have. We give thanks to God for the saint's holy lives and pray for the grace to imitate them!

Reminder of Cemetery Rate Changes Last spring, we sent a letter explaining the research into our cemetery rate structure and a modest increase that will keep up with increasing costs for maintenance and improvements for our parish cemetery, a part of the sacred space of our church and a profound witness to our faith in the Resurrection.

As of January 1, 2024, the following rates will apply:

- $350 for a parishioner gravesite (an increase of $50)
- $1500 plus a perpetual care fee of $250 for a non-parishioner gravesite (no change)
- $200 for a parishioner urn (increase of $50)
- $600 for a non-parishioner urn (increase of $100)

The fees for opening and closing graves, monuments, and related costs are not part of these rates, and remain the responsibility of the family. Those who wish to purchase burial rights for plots in our cemetery before the increases go into effect may do so at any time before January 1, 2024.

Red Cross and the Rice Area Bloodmobile I would like to thank all the people who came to donate blood on Mon., Oct. 23, at Shepherd of the Pines Church, Rice. It is great to see all the people who are willing to give of themselves in this time of a great blood shortage nationwide. 53 units were collected. Also, thank you to all the volunteers who helped make the day run smoothly. Lora Knafila, volunteer coordinator
